Milton Lafayette Bishop was 24 years old and was one of the most widely and favorably known young men of Connellsville. He was prominent in athletic sports, being a basketball player and tennis player of some note. He won his letter in basketball as a member of the varsity team of State college and was an honorary member of the Macabees basketball team of Connellsville. The young soldier was born in Connellsville in the Bishop residence in West Crawford avenue, May 3, 1893, the youngest son of A. W. and Alice May Bishop. With the exception of his four years at college he spent all his life here. After graduating from the Connellsville high school in 1912, president of his class at the time, he entered State college, graduating in horticulture in 1916. He followed that occupation for only a short time, having not fully decided upon what career he would follow, when he volunteered his services to his country. At one time he was employed by the Semet-Solway Company at Dunbar. He enlisted in Company D, his three years enlistment expiring when he was at State college. When the company mobilized at the armory for duty in France he re-enlisted and at once was made a sergeant. Bishop was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church and was a young man of estimable character. He was very popular among his many friends. In addition to his parents he is survived by one brother, Eugene Bishop of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop had received no word from their son since the big drive in which he lost his life.

Private Francis Erb was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Erb of Chestnut street. Private Erb would have been 24 years old had he lived until September 30. He was a meat cutter before his enlistment, working for the Union Supply company at Phillips and had previously worked four years for Harvey Sisco, the Pittsburgh street meat dealer, where he learned his trade. He was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church. His mother, Mrs. James H. Erb, had received a letter from Francis last Tuesday, in which he said: "Mamma, I will be home for Christmas." Mrs. Erb said that Francis had not received any news from up to the time of his death though the family had sent him letters regularly and money. Private Erb was to have been married to Miss Ella McGurke, of Uniontown, when he came home from war. Miss McGurke came down from Uniontown last night. Private Erb had one brother, Edward, who is employed with the Holland Piano company at Menomonee, Wis. His mother was in the present draft but was not called on account of a broken arm. He leaves two sisters, one, Mrs. D. C. Tom, of Sycamore street. Corporal Howard R. Sechrist was 18 years old and unmarried. He was born in Connellsville, a son of Robert Sechrist, deceased, and Mrs. Emma Sechrist, who at the present is managing her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edna Sechrist, who resides on the Van derbilt road. He resided in Connellsville all his life and was well known. He enlisted in Company D about four years ago and served on the Mexican border. Sechrist was a member of the Macabees and in addition to his mother is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Edna Sechrist of Dunbar township, Mrs. Margaret Richter, Mrs. Ernest Straway and Mrs. William Darby, all of Connellsville. A brother, Frank Sechrist, was a member of the old Tenth Regiment and while in the Philippine Islands contracted typhoid fever and died on a train while being taken to a hospital in Manila. Corporal Sechrist was a member of the Methodist Protestant church. His mother received a letter from him, written on July 16, a day following the big drive. He was killed on August 1.

Charles Graham was born in Uniontown, 19 years ago, a son of John Graham, deceased, and Mrs. Clara Graham of North Fourth street, West Side, and was the only support of his widowed mother. He was born four months after his father's death and when only seven months old the family moved to Connellsville, residing in the West Side. About a year ago Graham enlisted in Company D and was in training with his company at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., previous to leaving for duty overseas. At one time he was an assistant manager at McCrory's five and ten cent store, giving up his work there to become a track walker for the Pennsylvania railroad company, remaining in the company's service until his enlistment. The young soldier had a host of friends by whom he was held in high esteem. His father was a veteran of the Civil war. In addition to his mother he is survived by one brother, John R. Graham of Akron, O., and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Eliza Huey of the West Side, and Mrs. Violet Eliza Orbin of Crossland, Pa.

Elmer Besmer Camper was born at Canterbury, W. Va., a son of Mrs. Mary Camper of East Peach street and John W. Camper, deceased. He was 22 years old November 24, last, and enlisted in Company D on the Fourth of last June. His father died 16 years ago and the family then came to Connellsville, residing here since. The young soldier worked at various occupations previous to his enlistment. At one time he was employed by Harry Dull, the liveryman. Since arriving in France his letters to his mother were very regular. The last one to be received by her was written on July 14, the day before the beginning of the big battle on the Marne, in which young Camper was wounded on July 30. Mrs. Camper is bearing up bravely, clinging to the hope that her son's injury will not prove fatal. For some time past Mrs. Camper has been janitress of the First National Bank building. She has a daughter, Miss Thelma Camper, a clerk for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Camper was one of the best known young men of Connellsville.

Raymond Renninger, of Uniontown, was reported killed in action, was born in Connellsville where he resided for some years, having followed the occupation of a baker while here. He (Continued on Page Two.)

SECRETARY BAKER HOLDS OUT HOPE FOR MISSING BOYS OF 28TH DIVISION.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Secretary Baker said yesterday his department has not been informed of the causes for the relatively large numbers of Pennsylvanians reported missing in action in the Aisne-Marne fighting.

Secretary Baker said if the men are in the hands of the enemy it would indicate their companions had become separated from the main body of the division or the force with which they were operating. He added: "But it is entirely probable some of the men reported missing may have been wounded and taken to French hospitals."

It requires considerable checking up after engagements such as that in which the 28th Division participated before a man's status is fixed accurately.

DRAFTES TO BE UNDER MILITARY DISCIPLINE AFTER BEING SWORN IN

Will Wear Brassards on Arms Which Will Have Same Force as Though Wearing Full Uniform.

The draft boards have received orders from headquarters directing that when draftees are called for entrainment, each board must issue a commission to one of the draftees to serve as captain in charge of the contingent, also two lieutenants as assistants. By virtue of such commission those temporary officers become military policemen.

When draftees are sworn into the service a brassard bearing the letters "U. S. N. A." must be immediately sewn upon the left sleeve of each draftee's coat and worn there until they reach camp. This is done to show that the wearer is a member of the United States National Army.

The object of the new order is to enforce military discipline over the draftees from the time they are sworn in until they reach camp, the brassard carrying with it the same force as though the wearer had on the regulation uniform. The wearing of the brassard is subject to exactly the same penalties and discipline as a fully uniformed soldier.

Another purpose is to prevent draftees from entering saloons or receiving intoxicating liquors. The captains and lieutenants will have full charge of and be responsible for the maintenance of discipline of the draftees during the journey to camp and will have authority to report breaches of discipline to the camp officers upon their arrival there.

TIRE COLLECTION

To Continue for a Week in Order to Secure a Full Car Load.

Encouraged by the progress made in accumulating cast-off automobile tires for the benefit of the Red Cross, Chairman Hooper has decided to continue the collection during the remainder of the week. It is estimated that about half a car load, worth $300 or more, has been collected. It is expected that by devoting several more days to the work a full car can be gathered, in which case a higher price can be secured for the whole collection.

Ira Moon, Y. J. Clark, R. L. Hannam, and Earl Vannatta, who have been actively engaged in boosting the collection, are continuing their efforts and will stay right on the job until it is completed to their satisfaction. The Boy Scouts have taken a hand by canvassing the town to locate tires which are promptly sent in to increase the pile which now almost covers the wagon in front of the Colonial bank.

Auto owners who have not yet responded are asked to do so promptly and in the same generous spirit which has been shown by so many in the city and vicinity.

Miss Nemon Gets Appointment.
Miss Agnes Nemon of Dunbar has received an appointment in the military aeronautics department and will leave Saturday night for Washington, D. C., to take up her new work. Miss Nemon was a teacher in the Connellsville public schools.

FORTY-FIVE OF FIGHTING TENTH NOW IN SERVICE

Names Read at Reunion of the Command Here Yesterday.

COMPANY D HAS SEVEN

Company I, Greensburg, Leads With Twelve; Annual Encampment Declared to Have Been Best in History of Regiment, Despite the Rain.

Even though they have already gone through two campaigns the veterans of the old "Fighting Tenth" who convened here yesterday for their annual reunion are determined not to take a back seat in the present war. Forty-five of the old command have entered the service again. Here is the service flag for the men of their company who are now in the present conflict:

Company A, Monongahela—Captain Hunter of the Regimental staff, Frank Craft, Porter Wall, T. W. Downing, Dale Joliffe and Captain H. P. Furlong.

Company B, New Brighton—W. R. Harris, Eddie Boyle, captain of the machine gun company, 110th Regiment; Colonel Harry Watson, captain of old Company B; Freeman Visser, "Boots" McDermott and Dr. W. S. Belch.

Company C, Uniontown—Curtis Beatty, John Claude Shaw, Benny Miller, Frank M. Husted and Charles Playford.

Company D, Connellsville—Lieutenant Colonel Frank Hawkins, a former captain of old Company D; James McKenna, now secretary of the Knights of Columbus, Denning, N. M.; Wilbur Holtz, William Vance, Frank Keena and Rollo Cooley. John Papo was killed in France. He was with a Canadian regiment.

Company E, Mount Pleasant—Edward DePriest.

Company H, Washington—Colonel Frank Faucup, Captain Philip Bland, Captain R. G. Woodside, Walter Sheldler, Watson Mobley, Major Charles E. Wells, Captain Charles Van Voorhis.

Company I, Greensburg—General Richard Coulter, Lieutenant Colonel Henry Coulter, now with the 110th Regiment; Frank Keil, Major Thomas L. Anderson, James McMillen, James R. Brewer, Captain Archie W. Powell, attached to the aviation service; M. E. Martin, now with the 110th regiment; Captain G. L. Gardner, A. Y. Crouse, James E. Bigger, Major Winfield Scott.

The old "Fighting Tenth" reunion in Connellsville yesterday was commented upon by every one present as being one of the best, if not the best, thus far held. Major L. P. McCormick, chairman, worked hard to make the affair a success and saw that things went off smoothly. W. H. DeBolt also worked to see that the men were taken care of and recording the business that took place.

The men did not get their dinner until late in the afternoon due to the food having to be transferred from Graham's grove to the theatre on account of the weather. All the veterans were hearty eaters as there was little left when they finished. A few finished for their supper what was left of the corn and meat.

The meeting wound up in the afternoon with speech making by the different members of the company. Some very pleasing and interesting speeches were made by Colonel J. E. Barnett, Major G. W. Naff and Lieutenant Colonel T. S. Crago. Congressman Bruce F. Sterling spoke of the valor of the men in the wars they fought in and how their charges who are now the 110th are still carrying it on.

Colonel J. J. Barnhart also made a rousing speech. "I have set my time to die," he said. "I have asked the Lord to let me live until the Kaiser's funeral. Then if everything permits I hope to have the honor of presenting the old 'Fighting Tenth' flag to the members of the 110th when they come marching home."

Resolutions were adopted by the association as follows:

Appreciating the fine spirit of the reunion given us, and all the courtesies extended to us as guests of the City of Connellsville, the members of the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry, U. S. V., 19th annual reunion assembled, hereby extend our most cordial and sincere thanks to Mayor John Duggan for his hearty and patriotic greeting and welcome; to C. A. Wagner for his generous donation of the Solosen theatre for our use; to Dr. L. P. McCormick and his efficient and faithful assistants of the committee on arrangements who have been untiring in their efforts to make this reunion one of the most enjoyable in the history of our association, and to all (Continued on Page Two.)

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 14.—A German submarine, sighted off the tip of Cape Cod early last night, fired a torpedo at the steam trawler Walrus which missed by a narrow margin, Captain Clayton Morrissey, of the fishermen, reported on arrival here today. Because of the fog Captain Morrissey said he was able to escape and warned other craft of the danger.

The Walrus was on her way to the fishing grounds and was about seven miles northeast of Highland Light. Captain Morrissey said, when the conning tower of the submarine was seen some distance away. The U-boat quickly submerged and a few minutes later he saw the wake of a torpedo. Captain Morrissey turned about and started full speed for port. The weather was very thick and the captain reported that he heard several steamers in the vicinity blowing their fog horns.

FRONT NORMAL EXCEPT FOR ARTILLERY FIRING

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 14, 10:30 A. M.—There was no change in the situation on the new Somme battle front this morning except for the fact that a considerable increased artillery fire indicates that the enemy has finally decided to bring up more of his guns.

Various small artillery concentrations have sprung up during the last few hours and are now active in firing on some points within the British lines.

In the region of Bray, north of the Somme, as well as south of the river the British have been actively straightening and pushing forward their lines. Northwest of Bray the British raided enemy trenches and found them unoccupied.

Except for a little increase in the raiding activity by both sides, which is customary following a battle for the purpose of ascertaining possible changes in disposition, the remainder of the British front is in a normal state.

NINE OF CONNELLSVILLE COMMAND ARE KILLED

would have been 20 years old next September. Renninger enlisted in the regiment a few days before the roll was closed when it was mobilized at the armory in Connelville. At Camp Hancock he was assigned to the field bakery, having been employed in bake shops while in civilian life. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Renninger, and two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Renninger Goodwin and Miss Lela Renninger. The young soldier was a cousin of E. O. Brown, manager of the shoe department of Kobacker's store.

Sergeant Wilbert M. Stillwagon, reported severely wounded, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stillwagon of Edna street. He married Miss Carrie Vaughn of Dunbar. Sergeant Stillwagon is serving his second enlistment. He was on the Mexican border as a corporal and on his return was placed on the reserve. On re-enlisting he was made a sergeant. He is a grandson of the late J. Emmett Stillwagon, former burgess of Connelville. His grandmother, Mrs. J. Emmett Stillwagon, is seriously ill. He is a grandson, on the maternal side, of John Reagan, a Civil war veteran, of the West Side.

Patrick J. Cook, the first member of Company D, reported killed in action, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cook, who recently moved from Leesening No. 1 to New Salem. His name was reported last Saturday, the first of Company D.

COMPANY E LOSES THREE.

DRAFTEE IS MISSING.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 14.—Three deaths among members of Company E and one in the 110th Regiment band, and one man, a draftee, missing in action, were reported in telegrams from the War Department to relatives last evening. The list follows.

Killed in Action:

FRED M. STEFF, MOUNT PLEASANT.

WILBUR H. HAMILTON, EVERSON.

FLOYD BROOKMAN, SCOTSDALE.

JOHN NESGODA, STANDARD.

Missing in Action.

ALFONSO GIOIA, MOUNT PLEASANT.

Fred M. Steff, was killed July 30, according to the message to his mother, Mrs. Mary Steff, who lives in Diamond street. He was a well-known football player.

Some doubt existed today as to the command to which Wilbur H. Hamilton was attached. He formerly was a member of the regimental band but had been assigned to other duties and just before the battle was made a mounted orderly at headquarters. It was said. Greensburg claims him as a member of Company I. Hamilton was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hamilton of Everson. He was a graduate of the Everson schools. He fell on July 30.

Floyd Brookman was a son of J. A. Brookman, better known as "Tony" Brookman of Scottdale. He was killed on July 19, being one of the members of Company E to fall. He was 22 years old August 1. His death occurred seven years to the day after that of a brother, Edward. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. E. J. Stangon, Mrs. Thomas Haddock and Mrs. Charles Myers, of Scottdale. He was the first of 13 members of the Scottdale firemen to be killed. Brookman was born in Scottdale and was well known in Connelville. He was a nephew of Mr. Fred Munk, Mrs. Dorena Gilman, Mrs. Lawrence Walton and Anthony, William and George Brookman, all of Connelville.

John Nesgoda was killed on July 19. He was a son of Stanislaus Nesgoda of Standard works and was a member of Company E. He enlisted last April. Previously he had been a machinist's helper.

Alfonso Gioia was sent out from Connelville last October by Local Board No. 2. He was subsequently transferred from Camp Lee to a camp in South Carolina and became a member of Company H, Seventh Infantry. He was a son of Antonio Gioia of Parfittown, a suburb of Mount Pleasant, and has been missing since July 19.

COMPANY I SUFFERS SEVERAL CASUALTIES.

Sergeant Abraham Coiman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Coiman of Greensburg, and brother of Mrs. A. I. Daniels of this city, was killed in action on July 30. Coiman was Battalion Sergeant Major of the Headquarters Company of the 110th Infantry and was 25 years old.

Lieutenant Robert D. Herbert of Company I, Greensburg, was seriously injured on July 29, a telegram to that effect being received yesterday from the War Department by his father, R. W. Herbert, editor of the Greensburg Tribune.

Private William Madden, also a member of Company I, and a son of the late Thomas Madden of Jeannette, was killed in action July 14.

COMPANY B'S TOLL OF DEAD IS NOW TWELVE.

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Aug. 14.—The toll of Company B, 110th Infantry, was further augmented when relatives of five Beaver county youths were notified yesterday by the War Department that the boys had given up their lives July 15. With the five officially reported killed yesterday, the number of dead Beaver county soldiers and members of Company B, reached 12.

Dog Adopts Marine.

Sergeant J. G. Murphy of the St. Paul marine recruiting station has been adopted. No, it wasn't a millionaire widow, and it wasn't a young lady who wanted a brother. It's a dog, and a good dog too.

Chow, as it is called, is an Irish terrier, and it passed up an army major and several captains and lieutenants to pick on Murphy.

Chow has taken a fancy to the marine uniform ever since the day it wandered into the recruiting office and nosed out a master. Several days ago Chow was missing and the recruiting officers thought it had deserted.

It was a mistake, however, as the marine dog was found last night patiently waiting for Murphy. Sergeant Murphy says he will take the dog to France when he goes.

Height Indicator.

The height indicator is a very delicate instrument. It is set at "0" at the altimeter from which the machine starts. Consequently at landing the pilot has to beware in landing on any other part of the earth. If the ground during the course of his flight be higher than that from which he started he may bump into it, although his height indicator may be registering 200 feet or more. "This" said a British aviator recently, "is rather awkward if you meet a mountain at several thousand feet."

Confidence.

Henry's mother was explaining some of the reasons why he should be a good boy at all times. Among other things she told him that he had only one life to live and one chance here on earth to be good.

"Well, mother," said Henry, "I think we should have two chances."

"No, Henry; God gives us just one chance and we must try very hard to be just as good as we can be."

"Well," replied the boy, "I think we should have two chances. Now, who do you think is right, mother, God or me?"

"Why—come— Well, you know Mr. Parlow, she can't be happy as long as she and my Uncle Joe are mad at each other."

Mr. Parlow uttered another grunt, but the child went bravely on.

"You know very well that's so. And I don't know what to do about it. It just seems too awful that they should hardly speak, and yet be so fond of each other deep down."

"How do you know they're so fond of each other—deep down?" Mr. Parlow demanded.

"I know my Uncle Joe likes Miss Mandy, 'cause he always speaks so—so respectful of her. And I can see she likes him, in her eyes," replied the observant Carolyn May. "Oh, yes, Mr. Parlow, they ought to be happy again, and we ought to make 'em so."

"Huh! Who ought to?"

"You and me. We ought to find some way of doing it. I'm sure we can, if we just think hard about it."

"Huh!" grunted the carpenter again, turning Cherry into the cooryard. "Huh!"

This was not a very encouraging response. Yet he did think of it. The little girl had started a train of thought in Mr. Parlow's mind that he could not sidetrack.

He knew very well that what she had said about his daughter and Joseph Stagg was quite true. In his selfishness he had been glad all these years that the hardware merchant was balked of happiness.

The carpenter had always been a self-centered individual, desirous of his own comfort, and rather miserly. He had not approved, in the first place, of the intimacy between Joseph Stagg and his daughter Amanda.

"No good'll come o' that," he had told himself.

That is, no good to Jeddiah Parlow. He foresaw at the start the loss of the girl's help about the house for his wife was then a helpless invalid.

Then Mrs. Parlow died. This death made plainer still to the carpenter that Mandy's marriage was bound to bring inconvenience to him. Especially if she married a close-fisted young business man like Joe Stagg would this be true. For, at the reading of his wife's will Mr. Parlow discovered that the property they occupied, even the shop in which he worked, which had been given to Mrs. Parlow by her parents, was to be the sole property of her daughter. Mandy was the heir. Mr. Parlow did not possess even a life interest in the estate.

It was a blow to the carpenter. He made a good income and had money in bank, but he loved money too well to wish to spend it after he had made it. He did not want to give up this place. If Mandy remained unmarried there would never be any question between them of rent or the like.

Therefore, if he was not a really true cause of the difference that arose between the two young people he selected and enlarged upon it and did all in his power to make a mere misunderstanding grow into a quarrel that neither of the proud, high-spirited lovers would bridge.

Jeddiah Parlow knew why Joe Stagg had taken that other girl to Faith camp meeting. The young man had stopped at the Parlow place when Amanda was absent and explained to the girl's father. But the latter had never mentioned this fact to his daughter.

Instead he had made Joe's supposed offense the greater by suggestion and innuendo. And it was he, too, who had urged the hurt Mandy to retaliate by going to the dance with another young man. Meeting Joe Stagg later, the carpenter had said bitter things to him, purporting to come from Mandy. It was all mean and vile; the old man knew it now—as he had known it then.

All these years he had tried to add fuel to the fire of his daughter's anger against Joe Stagg. And he believed he had benefited thereby. But, somehow, during the past few months, he had begun to wonder if, after all, "the game was worth the candle."

Suddenly he had gained a vision of what Amanda Parlow's empty life meant to her.

Carolyn May, interested only in seeing her friends made happy, had no idea of the turmoil she had created in

Mr. Parlow's mind.

During the time that the nurse was at the abandoned lumber camp caring for Judy Mason, Carolyn May hoped that something might "take Uncle Joe there."

The next Friday, after school was out, Miss Amanda appeared at the Stagg home and suggested taking Carolyn May into the woods with her, "for the week-end," as she laughingly said. Tim, the backman, had brought the nurse home for a few hours and would take her back to Judy's cabin.

"Poor old Judy is much better, but she is still suffering and cannot be left alone for long," Miss Amanda said. "Carolyn May will cheer her up."

Mr. Parlow would drive over on Sunday afternoon and bring the little girl home. Of course, Prince had to go along.

That Friday evening at supper matters in the big kitchen of the Stagg house were really at a serious pass. Joseph Stagg sat down to the table visibly without appetite. Aunt Rosa drank one cup of tea after another without putting a crumb between her lips.

"Say, Aunt Rosa," demanded Mr. Stagg, "what under the sun did we do before Hannah's Carlyn came here, anyway? Seems to me we didn't really live, did we?"

Aunt Rosa had no answer to make to these questions.

In the morning there was a smoky fog over everything—a fog that the sun did not dissipate, and behind which it looked like an enormous saffron ball.

Mr. Stagg went down to the store as usual. News came over the long distance wires that thousands of acres of woodland were burning, that the forest reserves were out, and that the farmers of an entire township on the far side of the mountain were engaged in trying to make a barrier over which the flames would not leap. It was the consensus of opinion, however, that the fire would not cross the range.

"Surely any chance of its swooping down on us" decided Mr. Stagg. "Reckon I won't have to go home to plow fire furrows."

At the usual hour he started for The Corners for dinner. Having remained in the store all the morning he had not realized how much stronger the smell of smoke was than it had been at breakfast time. Quite involuntarily he quickened his pace.

The fog and smoke overcast the sky thickly and made it of a brassy color, just as though a huge copper pot had been overturned over the earth. Women stood at their doors, talking back and forth in subdued tones. There was a spirit of expectancy in the air.

The hardware merchant was striding along at a quick pace when he came to the Parlow place; but he was not going so fast that he did not hear the carpenter hailing him in his cracked voice.

"Hey, you Joe Stagg! Hey, you!" Amazed, Mr. Stagg turned to look. Parlow was hobbling from the rear premises, groaning at every step, scarcely able to walk.

"That scatica's got me ag'in," he snarled. "I'm a'most doubled up. Couldn't climb into a carriage to save my soul."

"What d'you want to climb into a carriage for?" demanded Mr. Stagg. "Cause somebody's got to go for that gal of mine—and little Carolyn May. Ain't you heard—or is your mind so set on makin' money down there for your store that you don't know nothin' else?"

Haven't I heard what?" returned the other with fine restraint, for he saw the old man was in pain.

HAVE PAID FOR THEIR SOULS' DESIRE.

That a number of young men of the 110th Regiment Infantry, have been killed and others severely wounded in action on the battlefield in France,
brings home to all of us with fuller force some of the grim realities of war. To the parents and intimate friends of the boys whose names will be immortalized among the world's heroes, there has been brought the realization that the worst they feared has come to pass.

So long as we were without definite
or authentic information reporting battered losses among the units in which the boys of our city and vicinity were serving, we felt, with the American's natural hopefulness, that Companies D and E were enjoying immunity from the dangers other companies had encountered. We were conscious, however, of the very certain probability that sooner or later the sad news would come that some of the boys we know so well would meet the fate of brave and true soldiers who do and dare without fear other than that they may fall of a full discharge of their duty.

We now know that several of our young men, who left us a year ago in the vigor and ardor of youth, stirred by the holy ambition to serve their country and the cause of Christian civilization, have given the supreme proof of their high devotion. Through the sorrowful findings that have come to some region, homes we also know that love's supreme sacrifice has been demanded of the mothers of soldier boys, wives of soldier men, sweethearts of soldier lovers. We know, too, that crushing as is the weight of this demand, it is being met with a bravery equaled only by the bravery
with which these boys, men and lovers,
have faced death on the field of battle.

So those who are sustaining this weight with fortitude and calm courage,
the heart of the community will go out with compassionate sympathy,
none the less tender because mixed with a feeling of pride. There will be felt, if not expressed and made manifest, that sympathy which is ever felt for those upon whom a great grief has fallen. There will be pride that our community has furnished, and we have been privileged to know, those self-sacrificing, manly men who were willing to pay with their lives and their bodies for their souls' desire.

REPORT ALL ALIEN PROPERTY.

The federal government in its campaign to round up enemy-owned property has requested the Pennsylvania Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety to locate all property of this description within the limits of the state. The Fayette county branch and all loyal citizens have a duty in this connection which should be the purpose of all to discharge completely. That duty is to ascertain whether there is any property in this county owned either by enemies or allies of enemies.

The term "enemy," as it has been officially defined, includes every person now living within, and every company incorporated within Germany, Austria-Hungary, and all territory occupied by the armed forces of the Central powers. Similarly, the term "ally of enemy" includes every person now living within, and every company incorporated within any of the allies of Germany and Austria-Hungary. Residence, and not citizenship, is the determining factor.

Germans, Austro-Hungarians, Turks,
etc., residing in the United States are not, by reason of their nationality considered "enemies" or "allies of enemies." Germans and Austro-Hungarians held in custody of the War Department are included within the term "enemy." Americans residing in Germany or Austria-Hungary, or in the territory occupied by their forces, are included within the term
"enemy" or "allies of enemy" in Bulgaria, or Turkey or in the territory occupied by their forces are included in the term "ally of enemy."

"Enemy owned property" included all kinds of property, tangible or in-tangible, money, chattels, securities, lands, accounts receivable, etc., belonging to an enemy. If the property is held in the name of another—a Nanny or in trust—it is enemy property—provided the beneficial interests belong to an enemy.

If any person has knowledge of such property being located in Fayette county there is a very weighty obligation resting upon them to give information to the proper authorities. Every vestige and form of property belonging to an enemy of Germanism must be cleared from the county if we are to lay just claim to it being one of the most loyal and patriotic subdivisions of the Imperial Commonwealth of the Nation.

The saddest note at yesterday's reunion of the Old Tenth was the receipt of news that members of the 110th had paid the full price of their devotion to country and duty.

That gallery of soldier photos is going to be one of the big drawing cards at the Red Cross street fair.

No finer service has ever been underaken by a government than the reconstruction and re-education of disabled soldiers at Marietta and other similar hospitals. These men do not ask pity; they merely want a man's chance to do things in a man's way.

Every day now brings its story of sadness from the fields of France
where Pennsylvania boys are pushing steadily toward Berlin. At the same time the same stories of bravery and daring that amaze the world and make us proud and glad to claim kinship
with the new heroes.

Wallace Davis, Arkansas member of the Democratic National Committee, and son of the late United States Senator Jefferson Davis, has been placed in Class I of the draft upon explicit orders from Provost Marshal General Crowder after the local board had granted him deferred classification.
This is one case at least in which "politics is adjourned."

Liberty Loan Primer

The Golden Sword.

Throughout the war the Kaiser has constantly laid great stress upon the efficiency of the German sword. With its vengeance he has in turn threatened all his opponents. Upon it he depends for the overcoming of all obstacles to his ambitions, the bringing of the world to his knees, the gaining for Germany of a place in the sun, and the fixing of Kultur irrevocably upon all the vanquished.

And what with the maiming of women and children and old men, to say nothing of the running through of crying babies, it has been a busy weapon in the Hun hands.

But the German sword is destined to fall its Master. It will make him a lasting reputation for butchery. It has accomplished that already. It will leave behind it a shameful record
of atrocities and little claim for mercy
for its wielders, but in the end it will be beaten back and broken. It will cease forever to be a playing for the mad war lord.

For America is forging today for her champions in the field a golden sword of irresistible might. A sword against which the merciless German implement of murder and rapine will be blunted and dulled and broken for all time.

And that sword is the Liberty Loan,
the war fund of America and it need
be of her allies.

And into its temper, into its strength
is going the determined spirit of millions of thoroughly aroused lovers of Liberty and right and truth. The millions who refuse longer to see all that democracy stands for outraged and trampled into the earth by Prussian ruthlessness.

Put your contribution into the crucible. Do your part in forging freedom's falchion that will blaze eternally down the ages the path of liberty and justice for all the world. Play a freeman's part while there is yet time.

MORE SLACKING.

There are a hundred ways to slack,
and each is worse than all the rest;
so place your hand on your hip and do your stunts with joyous zest. In these grim times employers need the very best their help can give, if they would keep up proper speed, and dodge the Saturday court and live. If you don't do the best you can to help the boys survive the stress, you're following a loathsome plan—the slacker's spirit you confess. This is no time to lose your train when there are useful things to do; it is no time to watch
the clock, or oggle all the dames in view.
You may have bought a bond or three,
but you're not busy with the slacking company if you're not busy as a bee. This war won't last a thousand years, it may run down before next May, and then there'll be all kinds of tears for those who slacked their time away. Your boss will say, "Aurelius Kelp, when war-time troubles made me yell, and I was needing loyal help, you were not there; three hoots in Hannibal, Mo."

And you'll be once you are a weed,
and maybe groom your wife and child;
and every place you hunt a job, your slacking record will be there. But if you do your duty, whatever sort of place you fill, you'll have the laud on your brow when we have picked Kaiser BIL.

THE YANK WHO GOT A COLONEL.

I wish I could have seen him trudging
reservard with his prize.
Seen the grin upon his visage and the
twinkle in his eyes.
I wish I could have heard him in that din of war infernal Shouting: "See the bird I captured!
Take a look! I got a colonel!"

Oh, I fancied when I read it I could almost hear him chuckle.
As he grabbed that haughty Prussian
and then calmly made him knuckle;
And I'd like to see his picture printed
here in every journal.
Probably coming in from battle shouting: "Hey! I got a colonel!"

I don't know where he hails from, and I didn't see his name.
But I hold that Yank's entitled to a goodly share of fame;
It would be an inspiration to our boys
throughout time eternal Just to read about that dough boy who went out and bagged a colonel.

Price Advance

For over a year now we have succeeded in maintaining our old prices,
principally by virtue of a big increase in sales which reduced our overhead cost.

For our fiscal year ending
July 1, 1918, our sales
amounted to over a million dollars—an increase of 58 per cent over the preceding year.

We had hoped to bridge
the war period without a change in prices on

but we find that our competitors do not keep pace with our rising costs. It is with sincere regret,
therefore, that we are forced to announce an increase, effective August 1,
which will make it necessary to retail VapoRub at 30c, 60c and $1.20

and continues all this week, a general cleaning-up in the furniture departments. After a very busy season and just before the arrival of our big fall stocks, it is a good time to clean-up the odds and ends. There are special designs in beds,
there are complete lines of springs, mattresses, pillows, and all sorts of bed covering. Then you will find novel dining room suites, attrac-

very special bargains in porch furniture, swings chairs, matting, etc. There are some special bargains in linoleum, rugs, window curtains, and numerous other articles of household equipment.
Now would be a good time for you to equip the entire house—it is surely a money-saving time.

THE PARAMOUNT.

WINNER TAKES ALL—An adaptation of G. W. Ogden's novel, "The Rustler of the Wind River," is being shown today with Monroe Salisbury in the leading role. The story deals with cattle rustlers, homesteaders, "killers" and heroism, and it is full of western atmosphere and action which can be transformed so successfully to the screen. A masquerade ball is a display of lavishment which will appeal to many and there are any number of good scraps to keep the audience tense. Monroe Salisbury has a congenial role. Helen Jerome Eddy, who became endeared to picture fans through her delightful character parts with George Beban, makes her bow with Universal in this picture, and as Frances, is charming. Some excellent photography is in evidence. Tomorrow, June Elvidge, the famous World star, supported by John Bowers and George McQuarrie, will appear in "Joan of the Woods," one of the best pictures in which Miss Elvidge has ever appeared. Miss Elvidge plays a dual role, that of a trapper's daughter, who slopes with a city chap and is afterwards deserted in the city. Joan dies of a broken heart and years afterwards the new Joan comes forth and falls in love with the stepson of her unknown father, who is now a great judge. The story is, decidedly charming and human.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"BELIEVE ME, XANTIPPE"—This is a charming photoplay opening in New York, when a wealthy clubman, who has been robbed by burglars, wages a 20,000 with two friends that he can commit a crime and elude the police for one year. He commits a trifling forgery and becomes a fugitive from justice, followed throughout the country by police circulars, displaying a photograph giving a minute description of himself, and bearing in large words his favorite phrase, which he uses on all occasions, "Believe Me, Xantippe."

Practice of Medicine Guesswork. It has been said that the practice of medicine is but a simple game of guesswork, because the action of drugs varies to a great degree upon different individuals, but when a medicine has lived for forty years, constantly growing in sales and popularity, there can be no greater proof of its merit. Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that famous old root and herb remedy, now recognized from shore to shore as the standard remedy for female ills.—Adv.

RUB OUT WRINKLES
KEEP SKIN CLEAR

The most delicate skin will quickly respond to the soothing and tonic effects of Hokara when this pure skin cream is used.

As a massage cream or after shaving, it is unequalled, removing all irritations, and making the skin soft and velvety.

Apply a little to the hands or face after washing and surprise yourself with the dead skin that comes off.

Hokara is the only antiseptic massage cream, and all skin blemishes soon disappear when it is used.

Although far superior to the ordinary massage creams and sold on a guarantee of "best you ever used or money back," yet the price is a trifle, only 25c for a liberal jar; larger size 60c.

Sold on a guarantee by A. A. Clarke.—Adv.

HOUSE BUILDING IN KOREA

Operations Always Begun by the Construction of a Most Ingenious System of Flues.

When a Korean begins to build a house he first lays down a system of flues where the floor is to be. These flues begin at a fireplace, usually built in an outer shed or in a closed alleyway connected with the house. From the fireplace the flues branch out like the ribs of a fan and end in a trench at the back of the floor space. This trench, in turn, opens into a chimney, usually built at some distance from the house. When the flues are completed the builder carefully covers them over with flagstones; he then cements the whole floor and covers it with a sort of thick oiled paper for which Korea is famous. The rest of the house is then built round the completed floor.

The heating system works in this way: When it is time to cook the rice for the morning meal the housewife lights a little straw or brushwood in the fireplace in the outer shed. While the rice is cooking the heat from the fireplace passes through the flues, heating the stone flags of the floor and diffusing a pleasant warmth that lasts until it is time to prepare the next meal. Two heatings a day generally suffice to keep the floor warm. On the floor the people sit by day and sleep by night. The heavy oiled paper that covers the floor prevents any smoke from entering the room.

Center of Agricultural Production.

The center of agricultural production of the United States, according to the value of crop and animal products for 1917, is in west-central Illinois, as shown by a diagram just issued by the department of agriculture. The states of greatest production are: Iowa, $1,330,000,000; Illinois, $1,253,000,000; Texas, $1,045,000,000; Missouri, $947,000,000; Ohio, $851,000,000; Nebraska, $774,000,000; Indiana, $728,000,000; Kansas, $725,000,000; New York, $700,000,000; Minnesota, $648,000,000; Pennsylvania, $638,000,000; Georgia, $595,000,000; Wisconsin, $578,000,000; California, $573,000,000; Michigan, $534,000,000, and Kentucky, $530,000,000.

Really Serious.

The Newlows had unwittingly chosen their abode in the neighborhood where scandal was rife. One morning one of the neighbors sent a hoarse whisper over to her chief confidant.

"What's the trouble between the Newlows?"

"Her husband tried to keep something from her."

"Oh, that's not serious! Men will have their little secrets."

"Ah, you don't understand! This is serious. He tried to keep a dollar and a quarter of his last week's pay."

Use Common Sense.

In a desire to help food conservation many women go to ridiculous extremes. Children and growing youngsters should be well nourished, war or no war. Mr. Hoover wants us to use common sense in our conservation. Putting youngsters on half rations is very far from common sense. If you cut down their butter or sugar, increase their consumption of milk.—People's Home Journal.

Ash Trees for Airplanes.

The appeal of the Aerial League of the British empire for ash trees for aerodromes has resulted in between three and four thousand trees being offered within the last few weeks, according to "Flight." ## Insists That Frail, Nervous Women Can Speedily Become Strong and Vigorous

A Vigorous Healthy Body, Sparkling Eyes and Health-Colored Cheeks Come in Two Weeks, Says Discoverer of Bio-feren.

World's Grandest Health Builder Costs Nothing Unless It Gives to Women the Buoyant Health They Long for.

It is safe to say that right here in this big city are tens of thousands of weak, nervous, run-down, depressed women who in two weeks' time could make themselves so healthy, so attractive and so self-confident that they would compel the admiration of all their friends.

The vital health building elements that these dependent women lack are all plentifully supplied in Bio-feren. If you are ambitious, crave success in life, want to have a healthy, vigorous body, clear skin and eyes that show no dullness, make up your mind to get a package of Bio-feren right away.

It costs but little and you can get an original package at any druggist anywhere.

Take two tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—even a day for seven days—then one after meals till all are gone. Then if you don't feel twice as good, look twice as attractive and feel twice as strong as before you started, your money is waiting for you. It belongs to you, for the discoverer of Bio-feren doesn't want one penny of it unless it fulfills all claims.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lactin, Calcium Glycero-phosphate, Iron, Potassium, Manganese, Potassium, Ext. Nuc. Vomica, Fowl, Gentian, Phenolphthalein, Oleoresin Capsicum, Etc.

AMENDMENT IN THE DRAFT AGE MADE TO HOLD MEN AT WORK

Easier to Have Men Accept Deferred Classification Than Now

HAVE DUTY LIKE SOLDIERS

Remaining in An Essential War Industry Just as Patriotic as Obeying the Commands of a Superior Officer in the Army; Passage is Predicted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—If the age limits of 18 to 45 are retained in the new draft bill now before Congress, the extension of the ages will increase the number of men subject to military duty by approximately 3,171,671, from which number it is expected to obtain 1,795,669 men for active military service.

One of the most significant amendments incorporated in the bill is the substitution in Section 4 of the present law of the words "occupation or employment" for the words "industries including agriculture." One of General Crowder's aides stated today that this change was made in order to broaden the scope of the law so that men who, under a strict interpretation of the present law, might not be considered entitled to deferred classification would certainly be so considered under the amendment.

It was this same side who made the statement recently that it was just as much the duty of a miner to accept a deferred classification as it is of a soldier to obey the commands of his superior officer and while no specific statement was made upon the subject it is presumed the amendment referred to was incorporated largely because of the belief that it will prove easier to induce men to remain in occupations or employments essential to the conduct of the war under the amended law than it has been under the law as it now stands.

The amendments incorporated in the bill are the result of careful study by General Crowder of the needs of the government and while it is impossible to state at the present time what attitude members of Congress will take towards the amendment, it is confidently expected it will be passed in its present form with a certain amount of delay but not serious opposition immediately after the conclusion of the present recess.

No date is fixed in the bill for the registration of the men affected by it, but it is specifically provided that the times and places when and where such registration shall be made shall be specified by the President by proclamation or other notice. The President is also authorized to call these men in "such sequence of ages" as he may deem expedient. This is interpreted to mean that those who can be most speedily fitted for active military service will be called first, and that all of those between the ages of 21 and 39 who are qualified for limited service will be called to relieve those between those ages who are fit for general service, before resort is had to men of greater age who will be drawn into the service under the amendment.
